Editorial Review

Review

John Zaffis is not only a living legend in the paranormal field, he is also the go-to guy when others need guidance and assistance. His vast collection of haunted artifacts is a testament to over 40 years of helping people whose lives are in turmoil because of supernatural activity. I am blessed to call John my colleague and my friend. --Chip Coffey, psychic/medium from TV's Paranormal State and Psychic Kids: Children of the Paranormal

Rosemary Ellen Guiley and John Zaffis co-wrote a book? It does not get any better than this. Rosemary, with her vast knowledge of all things paranormal, and John, with his incredible amount of field research into haunted possessions, pool their resources and produce a book that I had a hard time putting down. Possessed mirrors, bizarre ritual masks, a haunted deathbed, cursed jewelry, and everybody's favorite, creepy clown dolls, inhabit the pages like ghosts and should haunt your memory long after you've finished the book. --Mark Nesbitt, author of the Ghosts of Gettysburg series, Civil War Ghost Trails, and with Katherine Ramsland, the Haunted Crime Scenes series.

John Zaffis has accrued a vast array of fascinating objects, each with a cryptic history all its own. They have been kept under lock and key in a museum with no equal. Now the reader may share the experience from a safe distance, in the pages of this extraordinary volume. --Andrea Perron, author, House of Darkness House of Light, and a principal in the haunting portrayed in the film The Conjuring
