

Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments

By Deb Curtis, Margie Carter

Download now

Read Online →

Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments By Deb Curtis, Margie Carter

You likely have dreams for your early childhood environment that are greater than rating scales, regulations, and room arrangements. Designs for Living and Learning has been a favorite resource among educators and caregivers for more than a decade, and this new edition is packed with even more ideas that can be used as you create captivating environments that nurture children, families, and staff while supporting children's learning. With hundreds of all-new colorful photographs of real early learning settings and a multitude of simple and practical concepts for creative indoor and outdoor spaces and learning materials, this book truly is a source of inspiration as you learn how to shape welcoming spaces where children can learn and grow.

Expanded chapters include new information reflecting current trends and concerns in early childhood, such as the use of repurposed and nontraditional materials, children in the outdoors, alternative ways to think about providing for learning outcomes, facing and overcoming barriers and negotiating change, and the impact of environmental rating scales in Quality Rating and Improvement Systems (QRIS). Two new chapters are included, one highlighting the transformations of environments with before and after photos and outlines of the process, and the other with examples of soliciting children's ideas about the environment.

Deb Curtis and Margie Carter are internationally acclaimed experts in early childhood. They host three-day institutes and professional development seminars for early childhood professionals; consult with early childhood programs across North America, Australia, and New Zealand; and have written many books together.

 Download Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: T ...pdf

 Read Online Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: ...pdf

Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments

By Deb Curtis, Margie Carter

Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments By Deb Curtis, Margie Carter

You likely have dreams for your early childhood environment that are greater than rating scales, regulations, and room arrangements. Designs for Living and Learning has been a favorite resource among educators and caregivers for more than a decade, and this new edition is packed with even more ideas that can be used as you create captivating environments that nurture children, families, and staff while supporting children's learning. With hundreds of all-new colorful photographs of real early learning settings and a multitude of simple and practical concepts for creative indoor and outdoor spaces and learning materials, this book truly is a source of inspiration as you learn how to shape welcoming spaces where children can learn and grow.

Expanded chapters include new information reflecting current trends and concerns in early childhood, such as the use of repurposed and nontraditional materials, children in the outdoors, alternative ways to think about providing for learning outcomes, facing and overcoming barriers and negotiating change, and the impact of environmental rating scales in Quality Rating and Improvement Systems (QRIS). Two new chapters are included, one highlighting the transformations of environments with before and after photos and outlines of the process, and the other with examples of soliciting children's ideas about the environment.

Deb Curtis and Margie Carter are internationally acclaimed experts in early childhood. They host three-day institutes and professional development seminars for early childhood professionals; consult with early childhood programs across North America, Australia, and New Zealand; and have written many books together.

Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments By Deb Curtis, Margie Carter Bibliography

- Rank: #254530 in eBooks
- Published on: 2014-12-01
- Released on: 2014-12-01
- Format: Kindle eBook

 Download Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: T ...pdf

 Read Online Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: ...pdf

Download and Read Free Online Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments By Deb Curtis, Margie Carter

Editorial Review

Review

"Margie and Deb have done a phenomenal job of revising Designs for Living and Learning to ensure that the culturally relevant environments being created by paradigm shifting early childhood programs are highlighted. However, the power of their work is not in merely capturing the images that captivate our senses, but rather it is in providing us a window into the intentionality behind these images. It is far too easy to create an environment that is beautiful and aesthetically pleasing, it is harder to create an environment that reflects the unique culture of your early childhood community, one that builds connections for children, strengthens parents understandings of their child's development and pushes the field of Early childhood education forward. Carter and Curtis have not only achieved this balance, they have also made the information accessible through imagery that touches our soul. When we at the Paradigm Project are working to help programs deepen their practice and create environments that draw upon the richness of a school's unique community, we find Designs for Living and Learning to be a "go to" resource for us, one that can live on for the teachers and Directors after we leave the school."?Peter Blair, The Paradigm Project Founding Partner, ECE change agent, Lifelong learner and Associate Executive Director Harry and Rose Samson JCC of Milwaukee

"What is a quality experience and environment for young children? The voices of teachers in diverse settings - teachers who involve children in the design process and who design with attention to their own values and the rights of all children - are a powerful resource. Add to their voices the guiding philosophical perspectives and pedagogical approach of Deb Curtis and Margie Carter who engage with teachers around the world and you have this resource - bubbling over with photos and design ideas. New work included in this edition focuses on the professional development experience that can be the heart of transforming your environment. Quality is always a process and never finished. Let Margie and Deb provoke and inspire you on your journey."?Bonnie Neugbaur, Child Care Exchange and World Forum Foundation

"This new edition illuminates how the environment becomes an active agent that helps to shape the living going on inside it: the reader sees that the environment and the life it contains are compellingly inseparable. This is a thoughtful, inspiring, and empowering contribution to the early childhood field."?Carol Anne Wien, York University

"Beautifully constructed to connect to developmental and learning domains with well-conceptualized final chapters answering the questions that all will be asking as they read the book, "how can I do this in my classroom?" and "where will I get the resources?"?Dr. Deborah J. Cassidy, Professor of Human Development and Family Studies

"Designs for Living and Learning not only maintains that children thrive in spaces designed for both; it provides an updated second edition to planning outdoor and indoor environments that nurture children and families. Hundreds of photos and stories for early childhood programs around the world accompany discussions of the latest early childhood education trends, how to develop a sense of wonder and scientific thinking, and how to arrange and store materials to invite the best responses from kids. With its wealth of facts and fun ideas for environment and play areas, this is a 'must' for any involved in early childhood education."?James A. Cox, Editor in Chief, Midwest Book Review

"Margie and Deb have done a phenomenal job of revising Designs for Living and Learning to ensure that the culturally relevant environments being created by paradigm shifting early childhood programs are highlighted. However, the power of their work is not in merely capturing the images that captivate our senses, but rather it is in providing us a window into the intentionality behind these images. It is far too easy to create an environment that is beautiful and aesthetically pleasing, it is harder to create an environment that reflects the unique culture of your early childhood community, one that builds connections for children, strengthens parents understandings of their child's development and pushes the field of Early childhood education forward. Carter and Curtis have not only achieved this balance, they have also made the information accessible through imagery that touches our soul. When we at the Paradigm Project are working to help programs deepen their practice and create environments that draw upon the richness of a school's unique community, we find Designs for Living and Learning to be a "go to" resource for us, one that can live on for the teachers and Directors after we leave the school."—Peter Blair, The Paradigm Project Founding Partner, ECE change agent, Lifelong learner and Associate Executive Director Harry and Rose Samson JCC of Milwaukee

"What is a quality experience and environment for young children? The voices of teachers in diverse settings - teachers who involve children in the design process and who design with attention to their own values and the rights of all children - are a powerful resource. Add to their voices the guiding philosophical perspectives and pedagogical approach of Deb Curtis and Margie Carter who engage with teachers around the world and you have this resource - bubbling over with photos and design ideas. New work included in this edition focuses on the professional development experience that can be the heart of transforming your environment. Quality is always a process and never finished. Let Margie and Deb provoke and inspire you on your journey."—Bonnie Neugbaur, Child Care Exchange and World Forum Foundation

"This new edition illuminates how the environment becomes an active agent that helps to shape the living going on inside it: the reader sees that the environment and the life it contains are compellingly inseparable. This is a thoughtful, inspiring, and empowering contribution to the early childhood field."—Carol Anne Wien, York University

"Beautifully constructed to connect to developmental and learning domains with well-conceptualized final chapters answering the questions that all will be asking as they read the book, "how can I do this in my classroom?" and "where will I get the resources?"—Dr. Deborah J. Cassidy, Professor of Human Development and Family Studies

"Designs for Living and Learning not only maintains that children thrive in spaces designed for both; it provides an updated second edition to planning outdoor and indoor environments that nurture children and families. Hundreds of photos and stories for early childhood programs around the world accompany discussions of the latest early childhood education trends, how to develop a sense of wonder and scientific thinking, and how to arrange and store materials to invite the best responses from kids. With its wealth of facts and fun ideas for environment and play areas, this is a 'must' for any involved in early childhood education."—James A. Cox, Editor in Chief, Midwest Book Review

About the Author

Deb Curtis: Deb Curtis has spent the past 35 years working with children and teachers in early childhood programs, observing and studying children and the teaching and learning process. Along with teaching children, Deb has worked with early childhood educators in college settings, seminars, and institutes all over

North America, New Zealand, and Australia. She has been working as a toddler teacher for the past five years and is the coauthor of eight books related to working with young children. Deb holds a master's degree in human development from Pacific Oaks College.

Margie Carter: Margie Carter has worked in the early childhood field as a teacher, director, college instructor, coach, and consultant for nearly 50 years. She has coauthored eight books and traveled across the United States, Canada, Europe, Australia, and New Zealand to present to early childhood professionals. Margie's work challenges early childhood educators and caregivers to expand their thinking about what children, families, and staff deserve in programs. She works to ensure that all quality enhancement efforts are focused on reflection, not just compliance. Margie holds a master's degree in human development from Pacific Oaks College.

Users Review

From reader reviews:

Gonzalo Barnes:

The book Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments can give more knowledge and also the precise product information about everything you want. So why must we leave the good thing like a book Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments? A few of you have a different opinion about guide. But one aim that book can give many data for us. It is absolutely correct. Right now, try to closer along with your book. Knowledge or information that you take for that, you could give for each other; you may share all of these. Book Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments has simple shape however you know: it has great and big function for you. You can look the enormous world by available and read a guide. So it is very wonderful.

Emilio Lutz:

Are you kind of occupied person, only have 10 as well as 15 minute in your day time to upgrading your mind ability or thinking skill perhaps analytical thinking? Then you are receiving problem with the book as compared to can satisfy your limited time to read it because all of this time you only find publication that need more time to be read. Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments can be your answer since it can be read by anyone who have those short time problems.

Jennifer Nava:

This Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments is completely new way for you who has fascination to look for some information given it relief your hunger info. Getting deeper you onto it getting knowledge more you know or you who still having little bit of digest in reading this Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments can be the light food in your case because the information inside this book is easy to get by anyone. These books develop itself in the form which can be reachable by anyone, yes I mean in the e-book form. People who think that in e-book form make them feel sleepy even dizzy this publication is the answer. So there is no in reading a guide especially this one. You can find what you are looking for. It should be here for a person. So , don't miss this! Just read this e-book kind for your better life along with knowledge.

John Moreno:

Don't be worry should you be afraid that this book may filled the space in your house, you might have it in e-book method, more simple and reachable. This particular Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments can give you a lot of close friends because by you considering this one book you have point that they don't and make anyone more like an interesting person. That book can be one of one step for you to get success. This reserve offer you information that perhaps your friend doesn't learn, by knowing more than different make you to be great individuals. So , why hesitate? Let's have Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments.

Download and Read Online Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments By Deb Curtis, Margie Carter #4Z9W7LXEUCT

Read Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments By Deb Curtis, Margie Carter for online ebook

Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments By Deb Curtis, Margie Carter Free PDF download, audio books, books to read, good books to read, cheap books, good books, online books, books online, book reviews epub, read books online, books to read online, online library, greatbooks to read, PDF best books to read, top books to read Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments By Deb Curtis, Margie Carter books to read online.

Online Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments By Deb Curtis, Margie Carter ebook PDF download

Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments By Deb Curtis, Margie Carter Doc

Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments By Deb Curtis, Margie
Carter Mobipocket

Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments By Deb Curtis, Margie
Carter EPub

4Z9W7LXEUCT: Designs for Living and Learning, Second Edition: Transforming Early Childhood Environments By Deb
Curtis, Margie Carter